BIOGRAPHY

Allan Pease | Body Language Authority and Global Communication Strategist

Allan Pease is one of the world’s most successful non-fiction authors on human behaviour and people skills. With Barbara Pease (his co author barbara pease and author barbara pease), he leads Pease International and has addressed audiences across the Asia-Pacific region and in more than seventy countries worldwide. Their books, including The Definitive Book of Body Language, The Answer and Why Men Don’t Listen and Women Can’t Read Maps, have been translated into more than fifty languages and sold in the tens of millions.

A Proven Leader in Human Communication

A born achiever, Allan started selling as a kid and by seventeen was the top national salesperson for a company selling bed linen, pots and pans. At twenty-one, he became the youngest person in Australia to sell over $1,000,000 of life insurance in his first sales year, a story he shares in Questions Are The Answers. That early grounding in people’s behaviour still drives his practical approach today, where “talk language” and simple golden rules help such a diverse group build trust and deliver significant business results. Allan’s work focuses on how human beings actually behave. He shows how credibility, communication styles and how to teach powerful relationship skills can lift performance with diverse groups of stakeholders. Teams learn to develop instant rapport, create powerful lasting first impressions, and handle other people’s behaviour with confidence.

A Speaker Who Inspires Action

Allan takes complex ideas and turns them into clear frameworks that involve winning people over rather than pushing harder. Leaders and teams leave with practical relationship skills they can use straight away. Typical outcomes include higher sales effectiveness, better co-operation across departments and faster decisions that stick. For many audiences, he's a true people magnet, the kind of presenter who keeps attention, builds momentum, and gets everyone involved (something few others can do as consistently).

Awards and Recognition

Allan is a Certified Speaking Professional and is recognised with fellowships and honours including fellow of the royal (Fellow of the Royal Society of the Arts), Fellow of the Institute of Management, and Fellow of the national speakers association in Australia. He is also a paul harris fellow uk (a.k.a. association a paul harris) and a JCI Senator, and has been inducted into the hall of fame / national speakers association hall. He is also cited as a Fellow of the lifewriters association a paul Harris Fellow (UK) in several speaker biographies. His academic honours include honorary professor titles, including at Moscow State Technical University and ULIM International University.

Authorship and Media Impact

With Barbara Pease, Allan is among the most successful authors in their field. Their catalogue spans relationship dynamics, differences in body language between the sexes, and practical persuasion. Their work has reached mass audiences through television series, as well as a feature film inspired by Why Men Don't Listen and Women Can't Read Maps, which became a box office success.
