

Jade Simmons

Jade Simmons is a world-class concert pianist turned transformational speaker who crafts unforgettable keynote experiences. Her mind-shifting presentations inspire leaders and teams to break boundaries, lead with purpose, and embrace their boldest, most impactful selves—making her an exceptional choice for corporate events worldwide.

KEY TOPICS

- Leading Through Transformation: Activate leadership rooted in courage and clarity
- Purpose is the New Currency: Why bold purpose is the future of business
- Audacity of Impact: How to embrace high-level performance and social legacy
- Mindset Mavericks: Empowering teams to disrupt the status quo
- Your Boldest Move Yet: Helping individuals and organisations identify their next bold step

BIOGRAPHY

Jade Simmons: Unleashing Bold Leadership Through Transformational Keynotes

A Maverick Mindset for Modern Leadership

In today's fast-evolving business world, innovation alone isn't enough—organisations need bold thinkers, purpose-led leaders, and teams energised to make meaningful impact. Jade Simmons delivers the spark that ignites these qualities through high-octane, transformational keynotes that are unlike anything your audience has experienced. Described as a "musical force of nature" by Yamaha Music and "Classical Music's No. 1 Maverick", Jade fuses her concert artistry with dynamic storytelling and strategic mindset shifts. Her performances go far beyond the piano—each experience is crafted to challenge assumptions, elevate purpose, and activate audience members into becoming the biggest, boldest versions of themselves. Jade is the CEO of Jade Media Global, a pioneering live experience and global content distribution company specialising in 360º personal development. Her talks deliver both energy and insight, making her one of the most in-demand voices across sectors including finance, biotech, education, energy, entertainment and beyond.

From Concert Halls to Boardrooms

Before becoming a sought-after speaker, Jade Simmons carved out an extraordinary career as a concert pianist. A graduate of Northwestern and Rice Universities, she performed in world-class venues including Ravinia, New York's Town Hall, the Detroit Institute of Arts, and even the halls of the White House and US Supreme Court. What set her apart wasn't just technical virtuosity—it was her passion for expanding the boundaries of classical music. After an artistic epiphany, she pivoted her approach, using music not to impress, but to inspire and move audiences towards transformation. This shift laid the foundation for her signature keynote style: genre-bending musical experiences woven with storytelling and personal development strategy. She's now recognised for helping corporate audiences bridge the gap between performance and purpose.

Speaking That Moves and Transforms

Whether addressing C-suite executives or emerging leaders, Jade Simmons tailors her keynotes to inspire every member of the audience. Her presentations are not passive lectures—they're immersive, high-impact experiences that deliver real change. Organisations bring in Jade when they need to:

- Reignite purpose across leadership teams
- Build resilience and confidence during change
- Encourage innovation and bold thinking
- Activate employee engagement at all levels.
- Foster inclusive, people-first cultures

Her style is energetic, soulful, and strategic. Audiences consistently say they leave feeling seen, heard, and ready to act.

Trusted by Global Brands and Industry Leaders

The world's leading organisations—across finance, tech, healthcare, and education—are turning to Jade Simmons to energise their people. She's delivered keynotes for clients including Dell, NBCUniversal, Raytheon, Pfizer, QuickBooks, Nationwide, Hershey's, Barron's, and the Royal Bank of Canada. Jade is particularly valued for her ability to connect across roles and demographics, delivering messages that resonate with both senior executives and early-career professionals. Her audiences span generations, cultures, and industries, but her mission remains the same: to awaken purpose and propel performance. As a stellar mindset strategist fluent in the language of high achievers, Jade offers more than inspiration—she provides a framework for lasting transformation.

Creative Impact Beyond the Stage

Jade Simmons has always operated outside the box. From becoming the first New Music/New Places Fellow at the Concert Artists Guild to reimagining classical music podcasting as the voice of Decomposed, she's been at the forefront of innovation and inclusivity in the arts. Named one of the Best of South by Southwest, Jade is also an award-winning author. Her best-selling book Audacious Prayers for World Changers blends spiritual insight with personal empowerment, further cementing her position as a unique voice in leadership and personal development. In 2020, she took her boldness to new heights by founding Operation Restoration, which powered her run as an independent candidate for President of the United States. Her platforms focused on unity, people-first policies, and restoring purpose to public life—extending her message of bold transformation to a national stage.

Breaking the Mould in Business and Beyond

Jade Simmons has made a career of defying expectations. Whether transforming the concert platform, challenging political norms, or shifting organisational culture, she proves that purpose, performance, and impact are not only compatible—they're necessary. Her ability to blend deep introspection with inspiring action makes her a favourite among event organisers and business leaders alike. She doesn't just speak to audiences—she activates them. For organisations navigating change, aiming to energise their culture, or looking to realign around purpose, Jade provides an unmatched keynote experience that stays with people long after the applause.

Book Jade Simmons for Your Next Corporate Event

If your event needs more than a speech—if it needs a transformational experience that shifts mindset and sparks bold action—then Jade Simmons is your speaker. Her electrifying keynotes create lasting impact and inspire leaders at every level. Discover what she can do for your organisation—contact us today to enquire about her availability.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY

> ""We are always looking for people who are unique, new — fresh. Jade Simmons is that. She's very dynamic. She draws you in, you just want to listen to her, and the way she tells her stories and interjects her music — there's no one like her.""
>
> — Aimee Kane, Consultant/Creative Services, Meeting & Event Management, Nationwide

> ""Jade comes to the mainstage extremely well-prepared. She sounded like she had been working with us for a very long time. She aligned with our messaging. A lot of speakers say they do that, but it's often artificial. With Jade, it's completely genuine.""
>
> — Barb Orvis, Senior Meetings & Events Planner, Voya Financial™

> ""Jade Simmons as a conference guest speaker? None better! And I've seen a few in my day. Inspiring, challenging, motivating, entertaining…and more.""
>
> — Jack Salzwedel, Chairman & CEO, American Family Insurance