BIOGRAPHY

Jamil Qureshi: Master of Performance Psychology

Jamil Qureshi is one of the foremost practitioners of performance-enhancing psychology. As an expert in high-performing teams, Jamil has collaborated with a rich diversity of talented business and sports figures, helping six individuals achieve World Number 1 status. In 2006, Jamil was appointed as the first-ever official psychologist for the European Ryder Cup team by captain Ian Woosnam. This team made history by winning with a record-equalling margin. Since then, he has worked with five Ryder Cup captains, further solidifying his reputation in the sports world.

Working with Elite Athletes

Jamil Qureshi's expertise extends to working with 22 golfers inside the top 50 in the world, including two who achieved the coveted world number one spot. His influence in British sport was recognised in 2009 when GQ Magazine ranked him among the most influential figures. In 2023, the Daily Mirror named him one of the top 100 coaches in the world. Jamil has also successfully collaborated with three English Premier League football clubs and currently advises players from Liverpool FC, Manchester United, and Manchester City. His extensive work includes two Formula 1 racing drivers and the 2009 England Ashes-winning cricketers, demonstrating his versatile approach to enhancing performance across different sports.

Transforming Business Leadership

Beyond sports, Jamil Qureshi has made significant strides in the business world. Last year alone, he worked with business leaders and companies in over 24 countries, helping teams unlock their potential through innovative change and performance programmes. His leadership programmes at the board level for companies like Coca-

Cola, Hewlett Packard, Emirates Airlines, Cisco, and GSK are highly regarded. Additionally, his work across Lloyds Banking Group on their award-winning 'Journey to World Class' programme showcases his ability to drive corporate success. During the Covid-19 pandemic, Jamil played a crucial role in assisting global leadership teams adapt to remote and hybrid work environments. His guidance was sought by companies such as SAS, Lloyds Banking Group, GSK, Janssen, NHS England, and Protiviti. Jamil's expertise in leadership attitudes, team performance, and cultural change techniques proved invaluable during this challenging period.

Acclaimed Public Speaker and Psychologist

Jamil Qureshi is also a world-renowned keynote speaker, known for his insights into the psychology of performance and leadership. He has the unique distinction of being one of the few external psychologists allowed to study astronauts on the 2008 NASA Space Programme. His speaking engagements are diverse, ranging from addressing an audience that included two former US presidents at the K Club in Ireland to supporting Tony Robbins at his Dublin event. Jamil's versatility as a speaker is illustrated by his varied engagements. He has spoken at NASDAQ in New York, sharing a stage with General Peter Pace, Joint Chief of Staff, the highest-ranking military officer in the US armed forces. Remarkably, he also performed stand-up comedy in front of a celebrity audience at the Groucho Club the next day. His ability to engage audiences globally is highlighted by his record of speaking in six countries over two days.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY

"I've invited Jamil to speak in front of various International teams and every time, he has delivered a thought provoking, energetic and fun performance that has really inspired the audience. For me, the single best outcome, is that after the session people are thinking; thinking about how they feel and how they act in everyday situations and also answering their own "why" question. Now my teams are better equipped to conquer the challenges ahead and are all seeking to achieve."

"I was privileged to attend a session Jamil ran on the psychology of high performance. He is an excellent speaker and has the special ability to connect deeply with his audience through an informal, fun and engaging style. His message about the ingredients of high performance is profound but he delivers it through stories which makes it highly accessible and relevant. I have heard many different speakers over the years and would not hesitate to recommend Jamil as one of the very best I've come across."
